ABOUT
European Business Press
+ Demographics + Key Stats

European Business Press (EBP), SA, is the leading publishing group for design engineers and decision makers in the European B2B electronics industry.

EBPs flagship site started out as Electronics Express when launched by publisher Andre Rousselot in 1998. The publication has seen myriad changes since then, including rebranding from Electronics Express to EETimes Europe to eeNews Europe in 2017, and most recently the discontinuation of its print edition at the close of 2020.

With the departure of print, there is new energy behind our broadening digital offerings including new content, email and eNewsletter opportunities and improved lead-gen capabilities for all of the EBP media brands including eeNews Embedded, Smart2.0, eeNews Wireless and ECINews France.

Our team of editors continue to deliver timely and comprehensive coverage of the global electronics market through industry and product news features, technology and business analysis, and through specialized channels for power management, analog, automotive and RF.

eeNews Europe publishes three vertical design centres, eeNewsAnalog.com, eeNewsPower.com and eeNewsAutomotive.com, that connect engineers with expert sources of knowledge, such as vendors, consultants, independent designers and application engineers. These dedicated websites deliver everything from breaking news, reviews, product announcements, in-depth product research tools, expert advice and analysis, insights into industry trends and hand-on, how-to details.

During an engineer’s detailed design phase of a project they tackle the practical, technical and software challenges required to bring their product to its specifications. It is during this constrained phase that speed and ease are essential. According to a Global Media Usage Study, over 79% of engineers search the internet first to gather technical articles and product information.
